PART TWO
Ambis activity

Art. 4
Educational activity

(1) Ambis carries out educational, research, development and other creative activities, as well as complementary activities in accordance with basic democratic principles and applicable law.

(2) Educational activities are carried out:

a) in an accredited bachelor's degree programme (hereinafter referred to as "Bachelor's degree"),
b) in an accredited master's degree programme (hereinafter referred to as "Master's Degree"),
c) in an accredited doctoral study programme (hereinafter referred to as the "Doctoral Study"),
d) in lifelong learning programmes.

(3) Details about Bachelor's, Master's and Doctoral studies are set out in Ambis Study and Examination Regulations, details about studies in lifelong learning programmes are set out in the Ambis Lifelong Learning Regulations.

(4) The study is carried out in full-time or distance learning form or a combination of both (combined form).

(5) Educational activities are based on the results of world science and the results of our own scientific research.

Art. 5
University studies

(1) Higher education studies are carried out in accredited study programmes. The establishment or cancellation of a study programme is discussed by the Ambis Internal Evaluation Council at the proposal of the Rector.

(2) For each study programme, a guarantor is appointed from among the academic staff of Ambis with commitment to Ambis of 1.0, who coordinates the content preparation of the study programme, supervises the quality of its implementation, evaluates the study programme and develops it. The guarantor must meet the conditions set by the standards for the accreditation of the study programme for the proper performance of activities according to the previous sentence, the requirements according to the Act and the qualification requirements in accordance with the Government Regulation on Standards for Accreditation in Higher Education.[2]

(3) The guarantor of a master's degree programme can only be an associate professor, professor, or associate professor.

(4) The guarantor of the study programme is appointed and dismissed by the rector.

(5) Pursuant to Section 48(1) of the Act, only applicants with completed secondary education with a school-leaving examination may apply for university studies at Ambis. The condition for admission to a Master's degree programme, which follows a Bachelor's degree, is the proper completion of studies in any type of study programme at a university. The condition for admission to a Doctoral degree programme is the proper completion of studies in a Master's degree programme. Furthermore, an application may be submitted by an applicant for studies in a Bachelor's degree programme who has obtained a foreign secondary education by completing studies in a secondary education programme at a foreign secondary school, an international secondary school, a European school operating under the Convention on the Statute of the European Schools or a school in which the Ministry has permitted the fulfilment of compulsory school attendance in accordance with the Education Act and who proves that the condition for completing secondary education with a school-leaving examination has been met. The application is submitted in accordance with Section 69b of the Act in electronic form in accordance with the prescribed procedure by the deadline set by the reactor.

(6) The applicant is admitted to the study based on an admission procedure in accordance with Section 50 of the Act. Applicants who meet all the conditions of the admission procedure are admitted to the study. The decision on the admission of the applicant to the study is made based on the results of the admission procedure by the Vice-Rector for Studies or another person authorized by the Rector.

(7) The applicant for study is obliged to pay a fee for the actions related to the admission procedure. Its amount, conditions and method of payment are determined by the Rector's measure setting the conditions of the admission procedure for a given academic year and are part of the information published in the public part of the Ambis website pursuant to Section 49, Paragraph 5 of the Act.

(8) An applicant for study who is not a citizen of the Czech Republic is admitted to study under the same conditions as a citizen of the Czech Republic.

(9) Applicants who apply for admission to study and did not obtain their previous education in the Czech Republic shall prove that they have met the condition of secondary education with a school-leaving examination by means of the documents specified in Section 48, Paragraph 4 of the Act and that they have met the condition of university education by means of the documents specified in Section 48, Paragraph 5 of the Act.

(10) Ambis may set different conditions for the admission of applicants who have completed a study programme or part of it or are studying another study programme at a university in the Czech Republic or abroad.

(11) Ambis may set different conditions for the admission of applicants who have completed an accredited or authorized educational programme or part thereof at a higher vocational school or are studying an accredited or authorized educational programme at a higher

[2]Government Regulation No. 274/2016 Coll., on standards for accreditation in higher education vocational school in the Czech Republic or abroad.

(12) The conditions of the admission procedure in accordance with Section 49 of the Act are determined by the Rector in his/her measure.

(13) Studies in all types of study programmes are concluded with a state final examination. The content and form of the state final examination are determined by the characteristics of the study programme.

Art. 6
Lifelong learning

Ambis prepares those interested in qualification training, retraining training and specific training in lifelong learning programmes pursuant to Section 60 of the Act. The rules for the implementation of lifelong learning programmes are regulated in more detail by the Ambis Lifelong Learning Regulations.

Art. 7
Academic degrees and graduation certificates

(1) Ambis awards the academic title "bachelor" (abbreviated "Bc." before the name) to graduates of the Bachelor's degree programme in accordance with Section 45, Paragraph 4 of the Act.

(2) Ambis awards graduates of the Master's degree with the academic title "engineer" (abbreviated "Ing." before the name) or "master" (abbreviated "Mgr." before the name), depending on the field of education to which the completed Master's degree programme belongs, in accordance with Section 46, Paragraph 4 of the Act.

(3) Ambis awards the academic title "doctor" (abbreviated "Ph.D." after the name) to graduates of the Doctoral Programme in accordance with Section 47, Paragraph 5 of the Act.

(4) Upon graduation, graduates are issued a diploma stating the completed study programme and the academic title awarded, and a supplement to the diploma in accordance with Section 57, Paragraph 1, Letter c) and Letter f), Paragraphs 4 and 6 of the Act.

(5) The diploma and the diploma supplement are signed by the rector or a person authorized by him.

Art. 8
Research, development and other creative activities

(1) Research, development and other creative activities are the fundamental right and obligation of an Ambis academic staff member. In this activity, which is the basis of educational activities, freedom of research, development and creative activities and publication of results is guaranteed pursuant to Section 4., Letter a) of the Act.

(2) As part of this activity and in the interest of its development, Ambis establishes cooperation with workplaces of other universities, faculties, scientific and research institutes, both in the country and abroad.

(3) A specialist library is designed to support research and development activities. It provides services to Ambis employees, students and the professional public.

(4) In cooperation with other professional institutions, Ambis carries out publication, documentation, research activities, and activities focused on popularizing and providing information about Ambis activities.

Art. 9
Other activities of Ambis

(2) Admission to study at Ambis is governed by Sections 48 to 50 of the Act.

(3) Applicants who meet the conditions of the Ambis admission procedure are admitted to the study. The conditions and form of the admission procedure, including the method of submitting applications, are announced by the Rector for each academic year. The decision on admission is made based on the results of the admission procedure by the Vice-Rector for Studies or another person authorized by the Rector.

(4) The rector decides on the applicant's appeal against the decision. In the appeal proceedings, the rector reviews the compliance of the contested decision and the proceedings that preceded the issuance of the decision with legal regulations, internal regulations of Ambis and the conditions of admission to study.

(5) Foreigners can be accepted to study at Ambis and study at Ambis under the same conditions as citizens of the Czech Republic.

(6) According to Section 51 of the Act, the applicant acquires the right to be enrolled in studies on the day the decision on admission to studies in the study programme becomes legally effective. The date and method of enrollment are determined by the Rector of Ambis. On the day of enrollment, the applicant becomes a student at the university within the meaning of the Act (Section 61 et seq.).

(7) The study contract, which Ambis concludes with the applicant no later than the day of the applicant's enrollment in the study, contains, among other things, more detailed details about the payment of fees related to the study, as well as the regulation of rights and obligations associated with the violation of the obligation to pay fees related to the study.

Art. 16
Student rights

(1) The student has the right:
   a) study within accredited study programmes,
   b) fulfill study obligations under the conditions set out in the study programme and the Study and Examination Regulations (hereinafter referred to as "SaER"),
   c) be enrolled in the next part of the study programme if they fulfill the obligations set out in the study programme and the SaER,

k) comply with the principles of occupational health and safety and fire protection provisions with which he has been familiarized.

(4) By culpable failure to fulfill the obligation specified in Paragraph 1, the student is obliged to compensate Ambis for the costs it has caused.

(5) For violation of obligations stipulated by legal regulations or for violation of obligations stipulated by internal and other regulations of Ambis, a student may be subject to a sanction according to the Disciplinary Code for Ambis students.

Art. 18
Deciding on students' rights and obligations

(1) Decisions on the rights and obligations of students are subject to the relevant provisions of the Act, the Ambis Study and Examination Regulations, other Ambis regulations and Act No. 500/2004 Coll., Administrative Code, as amended, with the exceptions set out in the Act.

(2) The initiation and conduct of proceedings pursuant to Section 68(1)(g) of the Act is grounds for the suspension of proceedings on student applications, except for proceedings on accommodation or social scholarships.

(3) The student's application process begins on the day their application is delivered to Ambis.

(4) Proceedings are initiated ex officio:

a) in the event of interruption of studies pursuant to the provisions of Section 68, Paragraph 1, Letter c) of the Act and if the interruption of studies is ex officio, on the date of issuance of the decision,

b) in the event of failure to meet the requirements arising from the study programme pursuant to the provisions of Section 68, Paragraph 1, Letter g) in conjunction with the provisions of Section 56, Paragraph 1, Letter b) of the Act on the date of issuance of the invitation to comment on the basis of the decision; the initiation of this procedure is the reason for the suspension of the procedure on the student's application, which has not yet been finally decided.

(5) The rights and obligations of students are decided by the rector, a person authorized by him or a person designated by the internal regulations of Ambis.

(6) The decision made in writing contains a statement, justification and information on the possibility of filing an appeal.

(7) The decision is legally binding if the deadline for filing an appeal has passed in vain, or if the student has waived the right to file an appeal.

(8) The rector decides on a student's appeal against a decision. The rector reviews the compliance of the contested decision and the proceedings that preceded the issuance of the decision with legal regulations and the internal regulations of the university. The suspensive effect of an appeal cannot be ruled out.

Art. 19
Submission to Ambis and rules for delivering documents to students, applicants for studies and persons with interrupted studies

(1) Submissions to Ambis are made by an applicant for study, a student or a person whose studies have been interrupted, usually via the Ambis electronic information system (hereinafter referred to as "IS "). In the case of submissions made via IS, such submissions are considered signed and are made by confirming them in IS.
(2) In proceedings pursuant to Sections 50, 54b and 68 of the Act, Ambis serves via IS. The method of submission is not considered in this case.
(3) A document delivered pursuant to paragraph 2 is delivered now when, after the document has been made available to the party to the proceedings in the IS, the party to the proceedings logs into the said system. If the party does not log into it within 10 days of the date on which the document was made available to him in the IS, the document shall be deemed to have been delivered on the last day of this period.

Art. 20
Payments related to studies

Payments related to studies pursuant to Section 59 of the Act are described in the Ambis Regulations on tuitions and related fees.

Art. 21
Support measures to equalize study opportunities

(1) Support measures for equalizing opportunities to study at a university within the meaning of Section 42, Paragraph 5 of the Act are those measures that enable persons with specific needs to successfully complete their studies.
(2) Support measures and details of their application at Ambis are regulated by the Rector's measure Support measures for equalizing opportunities to study.
